

AI PREDICTIVE TOOL: SOURCE MORE OPPORTUNITIES WITH GREATER PRECISION
 Reaching new clients is challenging in the highly competitive investment banking industry

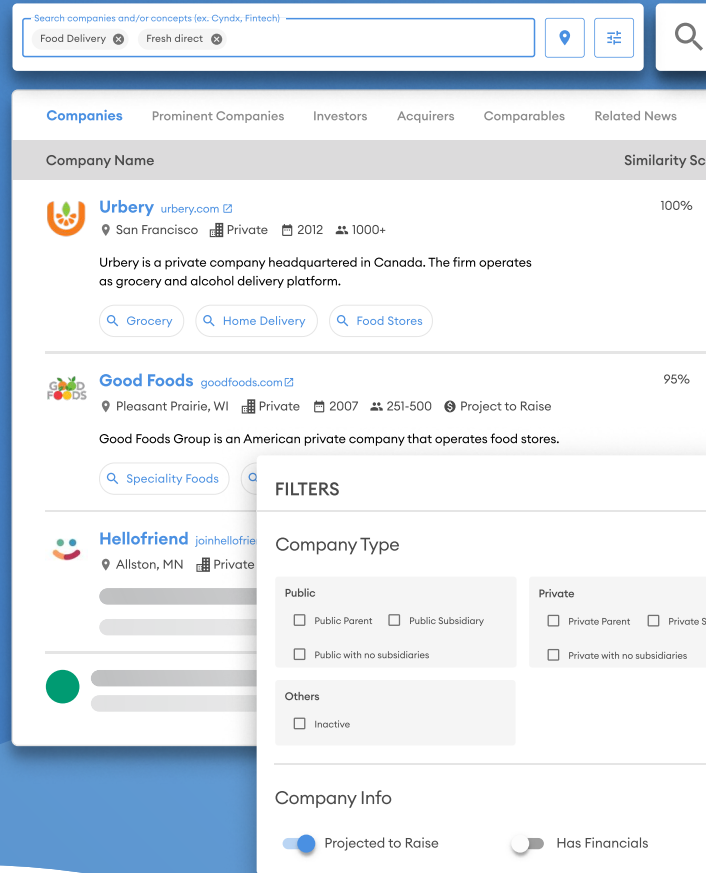

Meet Our AI Component

PROJECTED TO RAISE

It applies AI to our always-growing data lake to find companies – based on your specifications – to identify companies that are expected to raise capital in the next six months.

What if you had a tool that accurately predicted which companies needed capital in the next six months for privately-owned, middle-market businesses?

Companies would be more likely to engage with your outreach and be more receptive to messages. Timing is everything.

Here's what to expect:

Beat others to opportunities who don't have access to predictive tools

An easy-to-use tool allows you to customize your search

Filters to specify the industry, company age, revenue and other critical details

A database of more than 28 million private companies that's growing and updated daily

All companies have raised at least one round of funding in the past

Our tool works with 86% accuracy in pinpointing targets that will need funding.

Our typical search yields around 450-500 industry specific companies expected to raise capital in the next six months. That's hundreds of companies that you can contact before others.
